NORTHEASTERN IN THE BEANPOT TOURNAMENT

Northeastern plays in its 59th Annual Beanpot Tournament, taking on Harvard University in the first round on Monday, Feb. 7. The following week on Monday, Feb. 14, the Huskies will meet up with either BC or BU at the TD Garden. The first-round matchup with the Crimson is the first time these two teams have met in the first round of the tournament since 2008. Harvard bested Northeastern, 3-1, forcing the Huskies into the consolation round where Northeastern was edged by BU, 5-4, the following week. The last time Northeastern earned a Beanpot finals bid was in 2009 after throttling Boston College, 6-1, in the opening round before suffering a 5-2 setback in the big game against Boston University. It has been 23 long years since the Huskies last tasted a Beanpot victory. Northeastern has claimed four Beanpot titles – 1980, '84, '85 and '88 – while BU has won 29, BC with 15 and Harvard owning 10. The Huskies are 33-83-0 all-time in the Beanpot, including a 13-45-0 record in the first round of the tournament. The 59th gathering of Boston's four great hockey traditions marks the Huskies first tournament of 2010-11. Since Greg Cronin took over the program almost six years ago, his club has never been the home team. Monday's occasions marks the first time the Huskies will be the home team under Cronin's tenure.

HUSKIES VS. HARVARD IN THE BEANPOT

Northeastern and Harvard are set to square off in their 40th Beanpot battle as the Crimson owns a 22-17 advantage. Overall, Harvard has the upper hand in the series, posting a 64-32-0 mark against the Huskies in 96 tilts. Northeastern and Harvard did not meet in the 2009 Beanpot Tournament. The last time these two institutions shared the ice in the Beapot was in the consolation round of the 2010 Beanpot Tournament as NU came away with a 4-1 victory. Earlier this year, the two teams staged a first-round preview at Matthews Arena on Jan. 19. The Huskies skated away victoriously, claiming a 3-0 shutout. It was only the third time NU blanked the Crimson. Before that game, Northeastern and Harvard had not collided in a regular season game until Dec. 19, 1999 in Cambrdige (HU, 6-5 OT). In 96 games, Northeastern and Harvard have never battled to a draw. In the last decade, Northeastern has won 6-of-10 Beanpot contests. Another interesting fact about this Beanpot series is that NU and HU have never met in the Beanpot finals and that fact will continue through this year's tournament. When meeting in the first round, Harvard is 12-7 and in the consolation bracket, the teams are tied, 10-10. Greg Cronin is 3-2 against Ted Donato's club and is a winner of the last two installments.

CAREER LEADERS AGAINST HARVARD

Tyler McNeely paces the Huskies goal-scoring efforts in three career games against Harvard while Wade MacLeod, Garrett Vermeersch and Drew Daniels have all tallied two points. Steve Quailer, Mike McLaughlin and Braden Pimm have all netted a goal while Mike Hewkin, Brodie Reid, Rob Dongara and Zak Stone have all contributed one assists. In two starts against the Crimson, goaltender Chris Rawlings has only surrendered one goal in 120:00, assembling a sparking 0.50 goals against average with a .984 save percentage. He has made a combined 61 saves against Harvard, including a shutout in the regular-season meeting on Jan. 19 at Matthews Arena.

A JANUARY TO REMEMBER...

The Huskies got off to a bumpy start in 2010, gathering only three victories and assembling a 3-9-4 start. But, in the month of January, the Huskies posted the third-best winning percentage in Hockey East. Northeastern put together a mark of 5-1-2 with a .750 winning percentage. Merrimack (7-1-0 • .875) and Boston College (5-1-0 • .833) were the only two schools with a better winning percentage than Northeastern in the first month of 2011.

GETTIN' STREAKY

Before the 4-3 over time upset to Merrimack on Feb. 4, Northeastern assembled an unbeaten streak of five games, going 3-0-2 in that stretch. It stood as the third-best unbeaten streak in the country, second only to Western Michigan (11) and Denver (8). RIT and Wisconsin were the only two other schools without a blemish in their five-game stretches, as well.

MAN OF THE MONTH

Sophomore goaltender Chris Rawlings picked up the Pure Hockey Goaltender of the Month award as announced by Hockey East on Tuesday, Feb. 1. The North Delta, B.C. native was bestowed with the honor thanks to a sterling month of January, encapsulated by posting three shutouts with a 1.54 goals against average and .948 save percentage clip. His record of 4-1-2 was bolstered by four outings in which he registered 30 or more saves. Rawlings also collected his second Hockey East award of the season, fifth for Northeastern, when he was named the Pure Hockey Co-Defensive Player of the Week on Monday, Jan. 31. The 6'5 goaltender's decoration marks the third-conference award Northeastern's has reaped in the last four weeks. The North Delta, B.C. native stopped a combined 65 shots in the three-point weekend over Massachusetts from Jan. 28-29, including his fourth shutout of the season.

RAWLINGS GETTING HISTORIC

With the 3-0 shutout of Massachusetts on Friday night at Matthews Arena, Chris Rawlings became the first Husky goaltender in program history to shutout three teams in four games. His four shutouts have come against Providence (Nov. 20. 5-0), Vermont (Jan. 15, 2-0), Harvard (Jan. 19, 3-0) and Massachusetts (Jan. 28, 3-0). The last time a Northeastern netminder recorded four shutouts was in 2003-04 when Keni Gibson blanked five opponents in one season. Rawlings is now tied for second all-time in career shutouts in Northeastern history. He is currently sitting on seven-career blankings. That mark ties Keni Gibson's (2001-05) mark and Rawlings is now two behind Brad Thiessen (2006-09) with nine.

LEADING THROUGH STOPPING

Chris Rawlings is tied for second in the country with four shutouts, joined by Wisconsin's Scott Gudmanson and North Dakota's Aaron Dell. John Faulkner of Nebraska-Omaha leads the NCAA with six shutouts thus far.

MacLEOD MAKING HIS CLIMB UP THE SCORING RANKS

On Nov. 19, 2010, senior assistant Wade MacLeod became the 45th member in Northeastern hockey history to reach the 100-point benchmark for his career at Providence College. MacLeod attained his 100th-career point with an assist on Tyler McNeely's game-tying goal at Schneider Arena. The Coquitlam, B.C. native has tallied 52 goals and 64 assists in 135 career games for a total of 115 points. He became the 25th-fastest skater in Northeastern history to accomplish the feat. MacLeod is now the 25th-most prolific scorer in Northeastern hockey history. MacLeod has tallied 52 goals and 66 assists in 136 career games for a total of 118 points, surpassing David Poile (1967-70) and Jim Averill (1981-85). MacLeod lurks three points behind Dave Buda (1985-89) to move into a tie for 24th place. Buda tallied 63 goals and 58 assists for 121 points in 147 contests.

DEFENSIVE DOGS

Northeastern's scoring defense is currently positioned as the 10th-best unit in the country and third-best in Hockey East. The Huskies are surrendering a scant 2.21 goals per game, including just one goal per game in their last five outings.

UNJADED IN JANUARY

Northeastern has started off its second half by winning five of its eight games and assembling a 5-1-2 mark. It's the first time since the 2008-09 Huskies came back from New Years on a 4-1-0 tear. Northeastern's winning percentage rests at 67.7 percent (5-2-2) through its nine games after the New Year, marking the first time since the 2008-09 season NU has put together a winning percentage of 67.7 percent through nine games after the new year. Cronin's bunch went 6-3-0 (67.7) to start off 2009.

NIFTY AT 50

The number 50 became a prominent figure for the Huskies. Wade MacLeod tallied his 50th-career goal in game-tying fashion against Maine on Jan. 22 while linemate Tyler McNeely procured his 50th-career assist in the same contest. Northeastern's top line of Steve Silva, MacLeod and McNeely, the only line to have skated together this entire season, recently cracked the 50-point mark after the Maine contest. NU's top line has accounted for 62 points (27-35-62) in 25 games with a team-best +21 rating. Lastly, the Huskies netted their 50th goal against Maine (Bitetto's first goal of the game) and now have scored 60 goals on the season.

MACLEOD POWER

Wade MacLeod, Northeastern's leading point-getter (13-13-26), has scored 14 of his 26 points on the power play. He has scored five power play goals and logged nine assists with the extra skater. The mark is tied for fourth in Hockey East with Stephane Da Costa with 0.56 power play points per game. New Hampshire's Paul Thompson owns the top distinction in that category with 0.69 pppg (10-8-18).

BACK-TO-BACK BLANKINGS

Sophomore Chris Rawlings became the first goaltender since Keni Gibson to shutout an opponent in back-to-back starts since 2003. Rawlings stymied both Vermont and Harvard in 2-0 and 3-0 affairs. Gibson blanked Vermont, 1-0, on Dec. 6 and Princeton, 4-0, on Dec. 13, 2003. In Rawlings' two shutouts, the North Delta, B.C. stopped 51 combined shots, making 17 saves against Vermont (Jan. 15) and 34 versus Harvard (Jan. 19). Northeastern has clinched consecutive shutouts just three times in program history. Along with Rawlings' and Gibson's coups, the only other occurrence happened between Dec. 15 – 19, 1956, when Ed Kerr blanked Norwich, 10-0, and Middlebury, 3-0, respectively. Rawlings has posted three shutouts in consecutive seasons and is in third-place all-time for NU career shutouts, one behind Keni Gibson (7) and three behind NU's all-time leader, Brad Thiessen (9). Rawlings is the first goaltender in Hockey East to have earned three shutouts this season.

CRO PICKS UP HIS 100TH WIN

Northeastern head coach Greg Cronin earned his 100th-career collegiate win with the 3-0 shutout of Harvard on Jan. 19. Cronin is 81-99-27 (.457) at Northeastern with a 60-73-24 (.459) record in Hockey East. Overall, Cronin is 101-112-29 (.477) and 71-83-27 (.467) in Hockey East. Cronin amassed a 20-13-2 (.600) mark while acting as the interim coach at Maine with an 11-10-2 (.522) record in league play.

SPEEDY SCORING

Northeastern's goals from Anthony Bitetto and Mike McLaughlin, respectively, at 00:54 and 1:59 of the second period against Maine on Jan. 22 stand as the two-fastest tallies the Huskies have accounted for in a period this season.

NON-CONFERENCE TRIUMPH

Northeastern's 3-0 victory over Harvard on Jan. 19 marks the Huskies first non-conference win of the season. The Huskies put up a good fight against now-ranked #10 Rensselaer with a 2-2 tie on Oct. 15 before dropping three-straight contests to Holy Cross, Bentley and Niagara. The win marked the Huskies first win victory over the Crimson at Matthews Arena since Dec. 18, 1997 (6-4).

SIX STRAIGHT FOR WADE

For the third time in his career, Wade MacLeod scored a point in six-consecutive contests, spanning the victory at Merrimack on Dec. 4 to the 2-0 shutout of Vermont on Jan. 15. The Coquitlam, B.C. native assisted on Steve Silva's lone goal against Vermont on Jan. 14 and backed it up with his seventh-career two-goal performance in the 2-0 shutout of UVM on Jan. 15. MacLeod dialed up his 19th-career power play (along with an empty netter) and his 11th-career game-winning goal. During that stretch, MacLeod accounted for eight points (5-3-8). His streak is tied for the longest point streak on the Huskies roster, although he's touched upon that spell the most. Alex Tuckerman registered a six-game streak once in his career.

SHOOTING GALLERY

Northeastern met the 40-shot mark for the second time this season (43 shots against Niagara on Nov. 5), but also kept its opponent at bay in NU's zone. In the Vermont series from Jan. 14-15, the Huskies outshot the Catamounts, 73-42, including a 40-17 smothering in the 2-0 victory on Jan. 15. The 17 shots mustered up by Vermont stands as the lowest opponent shot total this season.

NORTHEASTERN GOIN' NATIONAL

Northeastern has found its way into the national rankings thanks to its strong start in the second half. Wade MacLeod is averaging 1.04 points per game, good for 50th best in the country and tied for 11th-best in Hockey East. MacLeod's 0.52 goals per game is 29th in the NCAA and tied for fifth in the conference. MacLeod has tallied 0.20 power play goals per game, tied for 37th-best in the land and tied for sixth in the league. His three game-winning goals is tied for 19th best and tied for the fourth most in Hockey East. Anthony Bitetto is 47th in the country with 0.56 points per game amongst all defensemen while classmate Brodie Reid's 0.67 points per game is tied for 32nd best in the country amongst all rookies. Chris Rawlings ranks amongst the best in the nation as his save percentage of .930 is the sixth-best figure in the NCAA. Rawlings' 2.22 goals against average is the 17th lowest in the country. Rawlings' save percentage is second in Hockey East and his goals against is third in the conference.

HURRIED HISTORY IN THE MAKING

On Friday, Jan. 7, 2011 at Massachusetts, Brodie Reid, Wade MacLeod and Steve Quailer pooled their efforts and each scored a goal within a 38-second span during the second period of play, ranging from 10:43 - 11:21. At this juncture, it's understood that is the second-fastest three-goal spurt by one team in Hockey East history and the quickest in Northeastern history. UMass Lowell had three goals in 24 seconds on Jan. 26, 1985. Reid's 5-on-3 marker (10:43) triggered the blitzkrieg as MacLeod followed suit with the 5-on-4 advantage (11:07). On the ensuing play, Quailer stripped the puck at UMass' blue line and stashed the third goal of the onslaught (11:21).

THE TOAST OF HOCKEY EAST

After earning its first four-point weekend of the season, the Northeastern men's hockey team was labeled as the Hockey East Team of the Week on Monday, Jan. 10. The Huskies dispatched Massachusetts and UMass Lowell, respectively, of 5-3 and 3-1 counts, standing as Northeastern's first winning streak of the season. NU's "Hockey East Team of the Week" decoration stands as the first-ever in program history.

ROOKIE REID RECEIVES AWARD

Freshman forward Brodie Reid picked up Northeastern's third individual Hockey East award of the season after being heralded as the Pro Ambitions Rookie of the Week on Monday, Jan. 10. Reid joined classmate Rob Dongara and sophomore netminder Chris Rawlings as the third Husky to collect conference laurels in 2010-11. Dongara was named Pro Ambitions Rookie of the Week on Nov. 22 while Rawlings was elected the Pure Hockey Defensive Player of the Week on Oct. 25. Reid collected the award after a two-goal, +2 performance in Northeastern's first four-point weekend of the year. His 5-on-3 power play goal at Massachusetts on Jan. 7 triggered a three-goal in 38 seconds blitzkrieg.

EMPTY NET NUGGETS

Northeastern has scored five empty-net goals this season, including three in four games from the likes of Rob Donagara (Jan. 7 UMass), Tyler McNeely (Jan. 8 - Lowell) and Wade MacLeod (Jan. 15 - UVM). Tyler McNeely leads the Huskies with three layups this season. McNeely's first empty-net tally also came against UMass Lowell on Oct. 23 in 3-1 fashion, as well, to give the captain a mild case of déjà vu.

CLAY CAN PLAY

Freshman goaltender Clay Witt earned his first collegiate victory in just his second-career start on Jan. 8 against UMass Lowell. The Brandon, Fla. made his third appearance in net, turning aside 23 River Hawks' shots in the triumph. In 152:27 minutes of play, Witt owns a sturdy save percentage of .938 with a meager 1.57 goals against. Witt has saved 61-of-65 shots he's faced thus far.

READY, SET, SCORE!

Wade MacLeod's game-winning goal against UMass Lowell occurred just 18 seconds into the third period. The senior's marker represents Northeastern's fastest goal scored in a period this season. The next quickest was McNeely's goal 26 seconds into the third period at Vermont on Nov. 26.

NORTHEASTERN'S BEANPOT CHAMPIONSHIPS

The most memorable moment in the history of Husky sports occurs with a 5-4 overtime win over Boston College on Feb. 11 to give Northeastern its first Beanpot in the 27-year history of the tournament. Paul McDougall ties the game in the third period and Wayne "Beanpot" Turner nets the winner just 2:47 into overtime, giving the Huntington Hounds the 'Pot. NU goalie George Demetroulakos wins the Eberly Award.

1984
The Huskies roll to a 7-3 win over Harvard in round one and then capture their second Beanpot Championship by taming the Terriers of Boston University on Feb. 13. Thanks to the spectacular play of NU goalie Tim Marshall and goals by the brothers Averill (Bob and Jim), Jay Heinbuck, Ken Manchurek and Randy Bucyk, the Huskies notch a 5-2 title game victory. Marshall earns the Eberly Award and Most Valuable Player honors.

1985
After dispatching Boston College 4-2 on the first Monday, Northeastern wins its third Beanpot title via a spectacular 32-save, Eberly Award-winning performance by freshman goaltender Bruce Racine. Goals by Greg Neary, Kevin Heffernan, Rod Isbister and Mark Lori enable the Huskies to defeat Boston University 4-2 for their second straight championship. Racine takes home the Most Valuable Player Award as well.

1988
NU wins its fourth Beanpot of the decade, the most of any school in the tournament and NU's third in five seasons. Bruce Racine turns in another spectacular goaltending performance and receives the Eberly Award for the second time. Racine, who earned his first collegiate shutout versus BC in the first round Feb. 1, turns away 25 shots in the championship game against BU. David O'Brien's two goals lead NU in its 6-3 victory.

Greg Cronin is in his sixth year as head coach of Northeastern after leading the Huskies to their first back-to-back seasons of posting a .500 record or better since the 1993-94 and 1994-95 seasons. Despite coming up just short of making the Hockey East playoffs in the tightest conference race in league history, Cronin salvaged a 16-16-2 record with a team that was plagued with injuries early and often in 2009-10. It marks the third-consecutive year Cronin has procured at least 16 victories.

Cronin has spearheaded a resurrection on Huntington Ave. as his Huskies have won 57 games over the course of the last three seasons. Northeastern's mark of 57 victories is a program-best, topping the 54 triumphs from 1987-90.

The Huskies hit on some high points in their most recent campaign, coming away with a tournament victory by blanking host Dartmouth, 7-0, and topping UMass Lowell in the title game, 2-1, at the Ledyard National Bank Classic in Hanover, N.H. Cronin also directed Northeastern to a five-game winning streak and a six-game winning spell in Hockey East action following the tournament triumph. The Huskies six-game stretch in conference action marked the first time under Cronin's tenure that Northeastern won six-consecutive league bouts.

Cronin oversaw freshman Chris Rawlings and Jake Newton to the Hockey East Pro Ambitions All-Rookie team in 2009-10, as well. Rawlings filled the gap in net left behind from Brad Thiessen and posted 15 victories; the most games won by a first-year skater since Gary Thornton in the 1964-65 season.

In 2008-09, Cronin pioneered the Huskies to a 25-win season, tying the school record for victories (1981-82). NU earned its fourth NCAA Tournament appearance in program history and vaulted as high as the No. 2 ranked team in the country thanks to Cronin's leadership. With all of the team's success, Cronin was honored with the Bob Kullen Hockey East Coach of the Year award at season's end.

Cronin, a Boston native, has coached hockey since 1987 and has a stellar reputation in recruiting and player development. He has coached at all levels from the University of Maine and Colorado College to the U.S. National Team Development Program to the National Hockey League.

In his four seasons as Northeastern head coach, the Huskies' personnel have greatly improved, as well as the systems on the ice. Every season under Cronin, the Huskies have scored more goals than the previous year. In 2008-09, Northeastern's offense soared to new heights as the team potted 121 goals, nearly doubling the Huskies' total in 2005-06, Cronin's first season as head coach. The power play unit was also much better, as it converted 12 more man-advantage goals than in 2007-08. Defensively, the Huskies were rock solid as the squad tied for the fewest goals allowed (91) among Hockey East teams.

Prior to Northeastern, Cronin was head coach of the Bridgeport Sound Tigers of the American Hockey League, the top affiliate of the NHL's New York Islanders. He also served as Director of Player Development with the Islanders.

From 1998-2005, Cronin worked in the Islanders organization. For the first six years, Cronin served as an assistant with the big club under Mike Milbury, Butch Goring and Peter Laviolette. During the Islanders' "Renaissance" of 2001-02, when the team posted the fourth-largest turnaround in NHL history, going from a 21-51-7-3 team in 2000-01 to a 42-28-8-4 team in 2001-02, Cronin coached the penalty kill unit that led the NHL and tied a franchise record for shorthanded goals. In his five-year tenure, he also assisted with practice management, developing forwards and scouting opponents. He coached NHL All-Stars Mark Parrish, Mike Peca, Alexei Yashin, Roman Hamrlik and Adrian Aucoin.

Cronin was named head coach of the Sound Tigers in 2003-04 and guided the team to a franchise-record 98-point season by way of a 41-23-12-4 record that included a 22-game unbeaten streak. That team established six AHL records, including lowest goals against average (1.75), fewest goals against (140), best penalty kill (.907) and most shutouts at home (12). He was named head coach of the PlanetUSA team at the AHL All-Star game.

In the 2004-05 season, Cronin guided the Sound Tigers to a 37-38-4-1 record although Bridgeport was playing seven rookies on a regular basis. After starting out 16-22-1-1, the team developed into a winning group, going 21-16-3-0 in the final 40 games. First-year defenseman Chris Campoli had 49 points during an All-Rookie campaign and was joined by fellow rookies Bruno Gervais and Sean Bergenheim on the Islanders in 2005-06.

Northeastern All-American Jason Guerriero played in 11 games down the stretch, tallying a goal and six assists.

From 2002-05 while with the Islanders, Cronin was Director of Player Development. He oversaw the training of two-time Selke Trophy winner Michael Peca (best defensive forward), Calder Trophy winner Bryan Berard (Rookie of the Year), Norris Trophy winner Zdeno Chara (best all-around defenseman) and Norris Trophy finalist Eric Brewer. In his role as Director of Player Development, Cronin created a summer curriculum for all players in the Islanders organization based on Long Island. He coordinated with strength and conditioning coaches, trainers and coaches to educate the Islanders' prospects in all phases of professional hockey.

When USA Hockey began the U.S. National Team Development Program in 1996, Cronin was hired along with current Notre Dame head coach Jeff Jackson and Bob Mancini, who is now the Director of Player Development with the Edmonton Oilers, to build the program from the ground up. As Director of Player Development, Cronin designed the program's world-class training facility in Ann Arbor, Mich. and coordinated the team's strength and conditioning program.

Cronin also coached the U.S. Under-18 team in 1997-98. Current NHL players Adam Hall (Tampa Bay), Jordan Leopold (Florida), Rick DiPietro (New York Islanders) and Andy Hilbert (Islanders) led the Under-18 team to the NAHL finals in 1998, their first season in the league.

In addition, Cronin was Associate Head Coach of USA Hockey's World Junior teams in 1996 and '97. The 1996 team won the silver medal at the World Championship in Geneva, Switzerland, which was the best finish in U.S. history. The team placed fifth the following season, marking the best back-to-back showings for the U.S.

Cronin served as an assistant coach on the 1998 World Championship team that finished fifth in Helsinki, Finland. That team was captained by former Boston Bruins coach Mike Sullivan and Ted Donato, former NHL player and current head coach at Harvard.

Cronin is no stranger to the collegiate ranks, nor to Hockey East, as he was assistant coach at the University of Maine from 1993-95, then served as interim head coach from December 1995 to December 1996. While interim head coach, Cronin guided Maine to a 27-14-2 record and coached the Black Bears to the Hockey East Championship game in 1996. Cronin's record with the Black Bears included a 7-1 record in exhibition games, with Maine's only loss coming to the Sweden Junior National Team. As an assistant at Maine, he was responsible for player development, game preparation and assisted in recruiting. He previously was a graduate assistant coach from 1988-90 while earning his MBA at Maine.

From 1990-93, Cronin was an assistant coach and recruiter at Colorado College and helped the Tigers reach the WCHA Tournament final in 1992 for the first time since 1978. He revitalized Colorado College's recruiting efforts in Western Canada, developed players and directed the team's conditioning program. He was interim head coach at Colorado College for the first two months of the 1992-93 season.

As a player, Cronin earned four varsity letters in hockey at Colby College from 1982-86. He helped the team to ECAC Div. II Final Four appearances in 1983 and 1984 and received the Most Improved Player Award in 1984 and the Coach's Award in 1986. After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in History and American Studies, Cronin was hired as an assistant coach of the White Mules in 1987-88.

The Cronin name is certainly familiar to Northeastern as his father, Don Cronin, was a three-year letter-winner in hockey, a 1958 Beanpot All-Tournament selection and was team captain in 1958-59. His uncle, Gerry Cronin, was also a three-year letter-winner at NU. Gerry was named Most Improved Player in New England in 1960, was a 1961 Beanpot All-Tournament selection and was team captain in 1960-61. Greg's cousin, Kerry Cronin, was a member of the great NU women's hockey teams from 1983-86.

Cronin resides in Boston.
